RE: Enid D. Rosenstiel

It is my pleasure to write letter of recommendation for Enid Rosenstiel.

I have know Enid since the winter of 1986, when she joined the instructional staff of the American Language Program at The Ohio State University, an intensive English-as-a-second-language institute. Since that time, I have maintained close professional contact with her, as her supervisor at Ohio State until 2005, and as her colleague until this past year.

Enid is truly a master teacher of ESL. Her experience and training in the field are substantial. She possesses the ability to adapt curricula and materials to specific student needs and levels. Her knowledge of methodology and technique is impressive, allowing her to approach different teaching situations with flexibility and insight. Also notable, in my view, is the warm and welcoming atmosphere that Enid creates in her classroom and her ability to foster meaningful communication. As such, Enid's students respond enthusiastically and with gratitude.

Enid has taught in all levels and in all skill areas in our intensive ESL curriculum, and on a number of occasions she has also taught in the university's programs for advanced ESL composition and spoken language skills for international teaching associates. She has also taken a substantial role in program curriculum development and mentoring of new instructional staff members.

Enid is smart, personable, and capable. She has a tremendous amount to offer any institution. I recommend her with enthusiasm and without hesitation.

Sincerely,
